Background

LegalEase Citations was founded in 2018 by Ethan Isaacson, then a law student and now a licensed attorney, who recognized the pain points and inefficiencies in creating accurate legal citations. He saw an opportunity to streamline the process and save hours of valuable time for law students, lawyers, and legal professionals. Using advanced A.I.-powered algorithms, the LegalEase Citations generator automatically applies all the citation-formatting rules for users, ensuring 100% accuracy in every citation style, type, and format.

Since its founding, LegalEase Citations has become a trusted resource for legal writing citations, with users across the United States and beyond. Its mission is to empower law students, lawyers, and legal professionals to focus on the substance of their legal writing by providing easy, fast, and accurate legal citations.

Product

LegalEase Citations is a legal citation generator designed to make the lives of law students, lawyers, and legal professionals easier. Our intuitive and easy-to-use citation generator forms cover all source types, including court cases, statutes, websites, and more. With advanced AI-powered algorithms, we automatically format perfect legal citations in seconds, saving our users hours of valuable time. Whether you need full citations, short citations, in-text citations, or academic and practitioner citations, LegalEase Citations has you covered. Our goal is to help our users ace their legal writing with perfectly generated legal citations.

Mission

The mission of LegalEase Citations is to empower law students, lawyers, and legal professionals by providing easy, fast, and accurate legal citations.

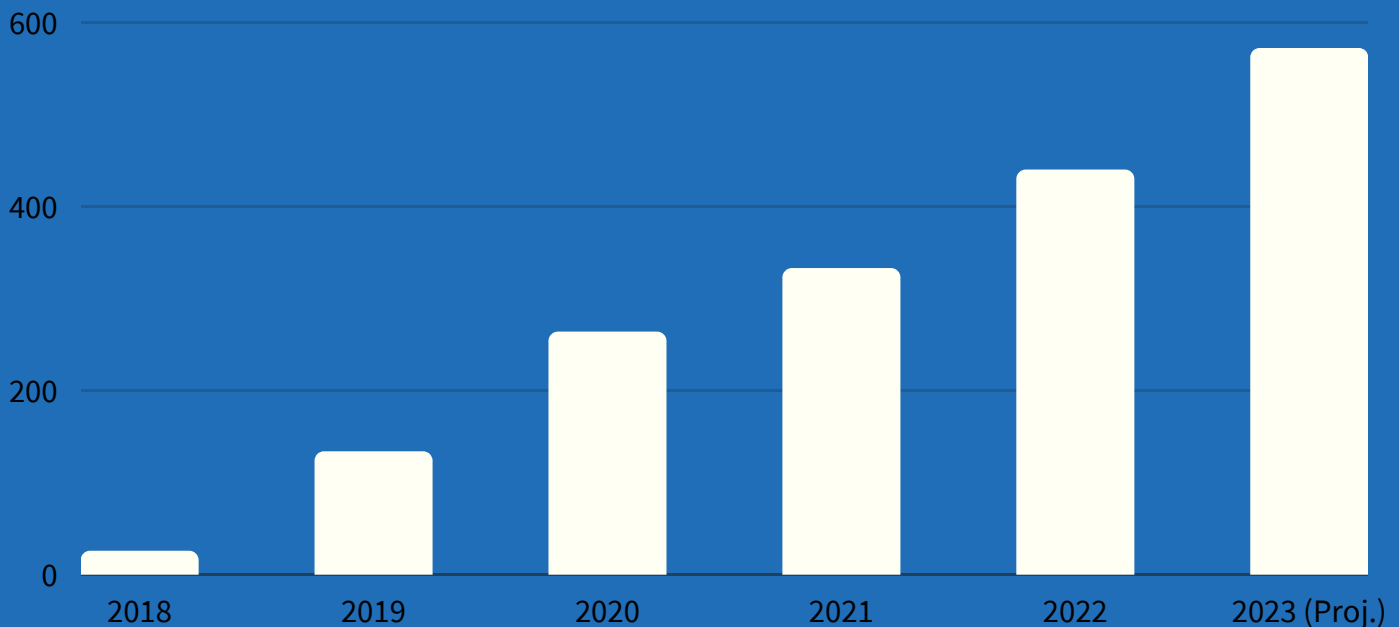

Recent News

LegalEase Citations was recently selected as a finalist in the seventh-annual Startup Alley at ABA TECHSHOW 2023. Out of forty startups that participated in the semi-final rounds, LegalEase Citations received the second-most number of popular votes. This recognition is a testament to LegalEase Citations' need, effectiveness, and popularity in the legal tech and broader legal community.
